

Readable text below layout

Leather artist

HIDDEN local art talent is on show at an art exhibition which opened last night at the Playhouse in Suva.

The Australia New Zealand Bank-sponsored exhibition is an annual event that brings together local artists together to display their work.

The local work includes leather art made from cow skin.

The exhibition ends on Saturday.

June 1999.

Artist Marita Brodie shows off her leather art

HIDDEN local art talent is on show at an art exhibition which opened last night at the Playhouse in Suva.

The Australia New Zealand Bank-sponsored exhibition is an annual event that brings together local artists together to display their work.

The local work includes leather art made from cow skin.

The exhibition ends on Saturday.